Do your part to reduce risk of coronavirus!

With students back on our campuses it's important to remember that the UNT System is following COVID-19 safety guidelines provided by the Center for Disease Control.
(CDC) – please do your part to help reduce risk across UNT World. All relevant UNT System risk management guidelines can be found on the UNT System web site and each UNTS institution also has its own coronavirus web site with campus-specific information and updates: UNT, HSC, UNT Dallas. UNT also produced a fun video with Scrappy reminding us how to reduce risk – click image above to watch.

As circumstances evolve, the UNT System’s overall strategy for physical return to the workplace will remain gradual and driven by our student needs, with utmost consideration taken for the safety of our students, faculty, staff and visitors. At all times the strategy will be focused on minimizing risk, while simultaneously optimizing our performance and the services we provide. Thank you for your efforts to keep UNT World as safe as possible.
